

Albertos Beraha's Wedding

This is a picture of my wedding day.

My wife is called Deniz and I met her in the youth club the community had. Back then we were all a big family.

I got married in 1958 and I met my wife a year before, the in-between stage didn't last too long.

We got married in Athens at the the Beth Shalom synagogue. The rabbi was called Bartzilai.

In the picture you can see on my right there is Lily and Manolis Arouch, my wife's older sister and next to Deniz there are her mother Eugenie Pardo.

On the far left and her sister Rosa Asser with her husband David. In front of my wife there is my little niece Alikí Arouch as a bridesmaid.
