

Isak Levi At The Second Wedding Of His Daughter Ema Levi

This is a picture from my daughter Ema Levi's wedding. It was taken in Sofia in 1979. In front is my brother Yosif Levi's wife, Matilda, who used to work in the field of cinema. I am behind her, next to me is my daughter. The wedding party took place in a Sofia restaurant and only our closest relatives and friends were present. My daughter Ema was born in 1952. She graduated from high school in Sofia, she got married early and she devoted herself to looking after her children. She was married twice and has three children. She has two girls from her first marriage, Teodora and Mariola. The older one, Teodora, went to Switzerland in the 1990s and currently lives there. She is dealing with interior design. The other one got married in Sofia and has a very successful marriage. She is expecting a baby now. My grandson's name is Borislav, he is finishing high school and playing basketball in the Jewish organization's team in Sofia. My daughter is currently dealing with a real estate agency.
